About Me

Mrs. D'Niessa Slocum grew up in the Southwest and earned both her Bachelors in Chemistry and a Masters in Educational Leadership from Colorado State University.

Mrs. Slocum began her career in Colorado where she taught middle school math and science for 11 years. In 2018, she moved to St. Johns, Florida with her family and began working at Fruit Cove Middle School as a math teacher and Testing Coordinator. She is excited to join PVA this year for her first year as an Assistant Principal.

Mrs. Slocum has a loving husband of 14 years and 3 children – a 7th grader at Fruit Cove Middle School and 1st grade twins at Durbin Creek Elementary. They enjoy spending time at home, swimming, and riding their bikes around St. Johns County.

“Every day may not be good, but there's something good in every day”
